Voters Hit The Percy Trail As Campaign Nears Stretch

Pledging to build up the state's economy thru an unremitting campaign to attract new industry and business and thus open up new avenues of employment, Charles H. Percy, Republican candidate for governor in the April 14 primary, carried his campaign into Will county Sunday afternoon.

He addressed a capacity crowd at the Valley View Farm Rhythm Barn in Frankfort township in the afternoon. Arranged by the Will County Committee for Percy, of which Thomas Feehan, Joliet attorney, is chairman it was anticipated that the meeting would draw between 300 and 400. Instead some 800 persons crowded into the place and still others were unable to find places inside.

That evening Percy addressed a meeting in the Palos Country club, arranged by Lester Mahaffey, township committeeman of the Regular Republican Organization of Palos township. More than 1,000 turned out for that meeting.

Both meetings were remarkable for the attendance, according to political observers who pointed out with some amazement that those present were rank and file voters. With the Republicans out of office there were no payrollers to draw from in building up the crowds.

"The people who came out Sunday," one observer remarked, "were persons who are attracted to Percy because they have read and heard of his views and they wanted to get them at first hand."

"I am greatly heartened by the tremendous interest people are taking in this campaign," Percy said. "It is extremely important for the people to take an active interest in government. If nominated in April I am confident that all of us on the Republican ticket will win in November. And we will not be thinking in terms of the next election but what we can do to help the next generation."

"In the next four years we must do something to provide gainful employment for the 2,000 young people that will be entering the job market every week."

"We must find ways to rehabilitate those on relief, thru education to provide them with new skills and to provide more jobs thru bringing industry and business to the state."

Percy, who at 29 took over the reins of Bell & Howell, internationally known makers of camera equipment and lenses, and built it up into one of the nation's great companies, brought out that he was no stranger to the problems of those on relief.

"My father was out of work in the depression," he said, "and we were on relief, just like millions of others, but we fought like tigers to get off. Too many now fight like tigers to stay on but I believe that thru education and the opening up of new employment, we will solve this problem."

Illinois is facing a grave problem in education, he declared, and there is great need for more realistic supplementary aid on the part of the state.

"We can rectify this and meet other needs by the building up of our economy without resorting to increasing taxes," Percy said.

Percy ripped into the West Side Bloc of Chicago, declaring that it is the most sinister and dangerous group in the state. Made up of men who assume the label of Democrats and Republicans, Percy charged that its members have no political loyalty but exist only to defeat legislation that would hamper organized crime.

He urged that the bloc be thoroughly isolated and that no candidate accept aid in any form from bloc members.

Percy said that "only a Republican governor can restore the seat of state government to Springfield, and take it away from the mayor of Chicago." Kerner's so-called "Spartan economy" has turned into a spending spree and pushing Illinois toward ruin, Percy declared.

"Like so many of his party Kerner is an advocate of bigger government and bigger budgets," he stated. In four years he has brought the state budget up to $4-billion. He has made no provision to improve the state's status or cut the high level of state expenditures."

Percy said that while at the helm of Bell & Howell "we never had an unbalanced budget in the 14 years I was chief executive officer and I certainly do not intend to spoil that record when I become governor. The gaps between revenue and expenditure that now exist will not occur if I am elected governor."

Percy again outlined his stand on the Presidential race.

"At this time," he repeated, "I have not seen any candidate to the Republican nomination for President whom I prefer over Senator Barry Goldwater."

He added that he felt Gov. Rockefeller was "least acceptable as a candidate by Illinois voters," and stated that as far as he was concerned personally, he was going to vote for Senator Goldwater in the preferential primary.

Political observers in Will county say that Percy is attracting a lot of support here and that his strength is gaining steadily.

Percy was the first to publicly announce his candidacy for governor. Some of those experienced in politics voiced the thought that he made his bid too early and were inclined to discount reports that he was picking up support in all sections. They figured that when the stretch drive began Percy would begin dropping back. But with the primary only some six weeks away Percy is getting stronger every day, they point out, and figure him as the likely winner.

Lions Plan Recreation Program At New Lenox

AREA C - Babe Ruth Baseball Area
AREA B - Small Fry Baseball Area
AREA A - Tennis, Basketball, Volleyball, Badminton, Ice skating, etc. Area

The New Lenox Lions Club recently announced its plan for the development of its seven acre plot behind the Lions Den on South Cedar road.

The club's baseball program and the large number of New Lenox children wishing to play organized baseball have outgrown the available playing field. It is also the desire of the Lions to make a playground available to the community by providing facilities for tennis, basketball, badminton, ice skating, etc.

During the last year, a large sum of money was spent to level and seed the property. To obtain funds for providing the baseball fields and various playing courts, the club is sponsoring a St. Patrick's Day dance and buffet at D'Amico's 214 Club in Joliet on March 14. Tickets are available in most business places in New Lenox and from members of the club. It is hoped that this project will be supported in the generous manner of previous Lion's activities, and that the public will purchase shares in the future of the youth of New Lenox.

"In trading another make for a new Fairlane... I got an entirely different kind of car. Fairlane's got much more room. The styling is much more beautiful. The ride is smoother. My other car vibrated; but my new Fairlane doesn't seem to 'feel' the bumps at all."

Percy Goes All-Out For Governor In GOP Primary

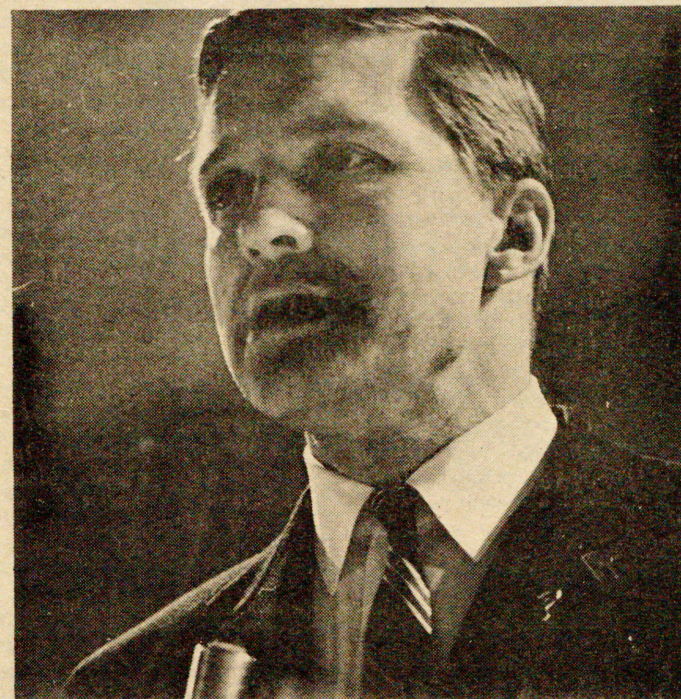

Blasts Demo Waste And Inefficiency

A program to save Illinois millions of dollars in government spending has been outlined by Charles H. Percy, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. Percy spoke in the area Sunday, appearing in Frankfort township in Will county, and Palos township in Cook. Capacity crowds attended both of his appearances.

He suggested eliminating obsolete state agencies, reduction of state payrolls, a closer look into state purchasing operations, and more efficient use of data-processing equipment by government agencies.

Percy charged that the "Spartan economy" promised by Gov. Otto Kerner in 1960 has turned into a "Spartan spending spree," and he pledged that "as Governor, I will recommend to the General Assembly the establishment of an Illinois 'Hoover Commission' to make a comprehensive study of the organization and operation of our government."

Percy also declared that "a minimum of $50-million a year could be saved by moving people off welfare rolls and onto payrolls, by intensifying our efforts to educate and train those people on public aid who are capable of being rehabilitated."

"...I never operated under an unbalanced budget in business and will not have one as governor..."

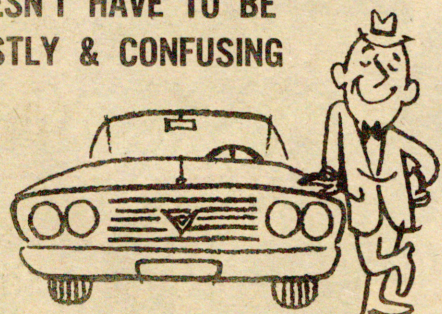

"...that is what he promised us in 1960..."

"...but he has given us a spending spree..."

In today's most modern homes and apartments

There are no chilly drafts with flameless electric heating

In many homes and apartments (even with the heat turned up to 80°), playing on the floor near any large window is like asking for a sneeze or a snuffle.

In an electrically heated home or apartment, there is no such concern. Here, stiff, wintry winds are stopped at the window's edge. There are no chilly drafts sneaking across floors or hiding in corners. Bare arms and legs stay as warm as they do in June. The only way you know winter is around is when you go outdoors.

You get a lot of extras

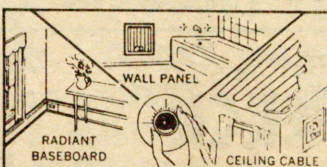

Like the refrigerator that replaced the icebox, Electric Heating costs more, but it offers more, too. With it, for example, your home or apartment stays clean far longer. You do a lot less dusting and decorating. The heat is always even. There are no drafts or chills, no dried-out air, no worries about flames, fumes or noisy radiators. Over 850,000 families in the U.S. are now enjoying the exclusive advantages of Electric Heating.

Electric Heating
 more practical than ever

The latest rate reduction on Electric Heating applies to the three basic systems illustrated below. So, if you're looking for a new home or apartment... plan to build one... or want to modernize the heating in the home or apartment you own, contact us for complete facts on the Electric Heating system that's best for you.

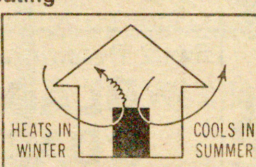

The 3 basic types of Flameless Electric Heating

Radiant Electric Heating—if you want room-by-room heat control. These individual room-heating systems may also be used in combination with either Central Electric Heating or the Electric Heat Pump.

Central Electric Heating—if you want gentle, electrically heated air circulated throughout your home. Central Air Conditioning may be added any time at moderate cost.

Electric Heat Pump—if you want perfect year-round climate in your home. Amazing unit switches to heating or cooling by itself, maintains ideal temperature, humidity.

"BILL" BARR SPEAKS ON CAMPAIGN ISSUES!

Foreign Aid . . . The Big Giveaway

(These are actual quotes from speeches that Bill Barr is making throughout the 14th Congressional District. Bill Barr is the only candidate for nomination to Congress on the Republican ticket who is discussing specific issues. Each week in this space one of the election issues will be discussed.)

FOREIGN AID

"Let's take a serious look at the face of America as it appears to our neighbors overseas. It is obvious that under three years of a Democratic administration, our image in the eyes of the world has sadly deteriorated."

"Prior to this Democratic administration there was no Berlin Wall . . . there were no Soviet troops based in Cuba . . . there was no oil steal in Argentina. Sooner or later, the American people are going to realize that you can not buy Democracy with Dollars."

"President Johnson played politics with Christmas . . . literally blackmailing Congress to pass his foreign aid appropriation . . . an appropriation that was later cited by Congress as an economy victory."

"Under these pressure tactics, the Democratic Congress, still preaching 'economy' appropriated $3 billion for foreign aid. Yet how many people realize that there was a $700 million surplus built up over the last fiscal year so that in reality the Johnson administration has $3.7 billion to pour down the rat hole of foreign aid."

"How many people realize that this appropriation included provisions to allow the Soviet Union to use credit in the infamous wheat deal?"

"How many people realize that we are still holding Russian notes dating back to the Roosevelt administration . . . scraps of paper as worthless as the Communist guarantee that backs them."

"Then, not more than two weeks after Congress ratified the wheat giveaway, the United Nations discussed nuclear free zones. South America was suggested as an area of the world to be kept free from nuclear testing and fall-out contamination."

"The Russians agreed that this was a good idea, however, only on the condition that the United States remove her troops from Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba. Why then did we not tell Mr. Khrushchev to remove HIS troops from Cuba before allowing the wheat deal?"

"It is the same old story of being out-manuevered at every turn by the Communists. The final outcome of the war against international Communism will be waged on the economic battlefield. For the first time, we had our adversaries in serious economic trouble. Then, we used American tax dollars to bail them out. "Examples of our ineptness exist in nearly every section of the globe. In South East Asia there is a 'neutral' country called Cambodia. Cambodia said, 'Yankee, go home! And Yankee went home . . . but not before spending $336 million on them in foreign aid, again trying to buy Democracy with Dollars. "And today, Cambodia is being used as a weapons exchange point between Red China and North Viet Nam . . . providing the weapons that are trained on American 'observers' every day."

"In November, 1963 Argentina confiscated American owned oil companies representing investments of $227 million. On December 1 we made our regular monthly foreign aid payment to Argentina. We have now lent them in excess of $478 million."

"What is the answer? "We must carry a big stick. We must be prepared to win a limited as well as a world wide conflict. This is the only kind of logic that Communists recognize. We must keep the lines of diplomacy open thru the United Nations but we must always negotiate from a position of strength, not weakness."

"What would Theodore Roosevelt have done in the face of Fidel Castro's denying our troops water at Guantanamo Bay? Would he have said, 'Excuse me for being here, Mr. Castro. We will dig some wells of our own at a cost of $7 million to our taxpayers.'"

"I suggest that he would have sent a squad of Cuban based marines the two miles down the road to Castro's water company and turned the water back on!"

"The one time we did not back down, in the case of the Cuban missile crisis, Mr. Khrushchev took his missiles and ran for cover."

"We need career diplomats in our state department . . . not political hacks. We need men who speak the languages and understand the customs of the countries in which they serve. "Our double dealing, double standard diplomatic policies have created situations like Cuba, Panama, Laos, and Viet Nam . . . the list is endless."

"The time has come for the American people to stop trying to buy Democracy with Dollars. The time has come for us to stand firm on our convictions and wage a winning battle against the very real menace of international Communism."

(Next week, Bill Barr will discuss another vital issue confronting the voters of the 14th Congressional District.)

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was written by Dr. Harold M. Mayer, University of Chicago, noted geographer and planner who recently addressed a meeting of the Lincoln-Way high school board, its advisory site committee, and the general public, at the school. The high school board has retained Dr. Mayer to assist in the selection of a site for a proposed new high school plant in the district. To this end he has prepared a statement covering the potentialities of the area. We believe it is important that the people of the area have an opportunity to read this report. Because of its length we are dividing it into three sections. The second part will be published next week, and the third the week thereafter.)

BY DR. HAROLD M. MAYER
The problem of site selection and planning for a new high school to accommodate the anticipated increase in enrollment within the Lincoln-Way community high school district is inextricably related to the problems of planning for the general growth of the school district and its environs. Within the next few years, a spectacular increase in population may be expected within the district.

The area under consideration in Northeastern Will county, includes all of Frankfort township, most of New Lenox township, and approximately two-thirds of Manhattan township, with a total area of ninety square miles. (1) The school district was created in 1951, and since then the enrollment in the high school has increased from about 250 to nearly 1,100 students, while the total population of the school district more than doubled.

The district, located approximately 30 to 40 miles southwest of the Chicago Loop, is directly east of Joliet, on the Chicago Rock Island and Pacific Railway, U.S. 30 (Lincoln Highway) the major east-west highway in the southern part of the Chicago metropolitan area, and U.S. 45, an important north-south highway passing thru the western suburbs of Chicago. U.S. 6 also serves the area. Within the district are four incorporated municipalities: Frankfort, Manhattan, Mokena and New Lenox. The latter two places are served by suburban passenger service of the Rock Island railroad, connecting Chicago and Joliet.

1. This area is the subject of a comprehensive factual and statistical publication, invaluable to the author of the present paper: Factors Influencing Growth in the Lincoln-Way High School District, by Donald J. D'Amico (New Lenox, 1963), 95 pp., plus maps.)

The geographic situation - The district is within the Chicago Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area, as is all of Will county, but is beyond the outer fringe of the Chicago Urbanized Area, as defined by the U.S. Census in 1960. The continuously urbanized area surrounding Chicago, however, is rapidly spreading southwesterly, and prospects are that the Lincoln-Way high school district will be included in the continuously urbanized area in the relatively near future. Since Joliet is included by the U.S. government statistical agencies in the Chicago metropolitan area, altho its population exceeds the minimum requirement of 50,000 as a central city of its own standard metropolitan statistical area, no separate urbanized area has been defined beyond the municipal boundaries of that city, which is located immediately to the west of the district. However, were such an area to be defined, it is clear that it would be in immediately proximate position to the district, and possibly would already extend into it.

Present trends and prospects indicate that the district will be completely urbanized in the relatively near future, as the population expansion southwesterly from Chicago and easterly from Joliet coalesces. Whether that urbanization within the district is to be a chaotic sprawl or an attractive suburban environment is subject to a considerable degree of local control, providing that the area is planned comprehensively, with appropriate legislation and enforcement to effectuate the plan, in the mutual interest of each of the communities involved.

The imminent construction of the missing link of F.A.I. 80, to form a continuous transcontinental highway thru the district, makes the preparation and implementation of a plan for the development of the district a matter of urgency.

The situation of the district to the southwest of Chicago has, in the past, been relatively unfavorable for population growth, and until recently the district has been essentially rural, with four municipalities which were essentially local service centers for the surrounding rural communities. However, within the past decade since creation of the high school district, the population has more than doubled, and it is increasing at an accelerating rate. The district still, however, contains a smaller population than comparably sized areas at comparable distances from the center of Chicago in other directions. The basic reason for the former slow rate of population growth is deficiencies in transportation.

The suburbs of Chicago are aligned roughly in a star-shaped pattern radiating out from the central city, along the major railroad lines which have, or had, suburban commuter train service.

Along these lines, in the pre-automobile period, suburbs developed, like beads on a string, each centering upon a local train stop. Thus, east of the Lincoln-Way district, a string of such suburbs developed along the Illinois Central, and to the west along the canal, served by the former Alton railroad (now the G.M. & O), which had suburban service, as did also the Chicago and Joliet electric railway which was abandoned in 1932.

Altho the Rock Island had suburban service between Chicago and Joliet for a century, the towns which it served were essentially local centers rather than commuting suburbs, until very recently.

Immediately to the northeast of the district, the countryside is still largely agricultural, representing an interstitial area between the older radial prongs of suburban development. This area never had the number or frequency of suburban train services which were characteristic of the suburban tentacles to the north, northwest, west, and south of Chicago. This was in part because of the interposition, between the area and Chicago, of extensive areas not available for development as a continuous residential suburban mass. The Clearing industrial district, the large Clearing railroad freight yards, and later the Chicago Municipal (Midway) Airport, as well as the very extensive forest preserves in the Palos Hills area, interrupted the continuity of the urban growth, and represented barriers which discouraged the development of direct transportation routes across them southwest from Chicago. Both the Rock Island and the Wabash railroads have somewhat circuitous routes from Chicago, creating excessive mileage, and hence high fares, in proportion to the direct distance from Chicago.

With the development of highways and automobile transportation following World War I, the transportation handicap of the area remained. The rectangular grid of highways characteristic of the area means that motorists enroute to and from Chicago have been forced to journey along two sides of a triangle instead of along the hypotenuse. There is still a missing link on the otherwise direct Southwest highway (Ill. 7). The Lincoln Highway (U.S. 30) across the east-west axis of the area does not directly connect with Chicago and is a two-lane road with obsolete design between Cicero avenue and Joliet.

Within the next year or two, these transportation handicaps will be removed in a spectacular manner. F.A.I. 80, a link in the 41,000 mile national Interstate System of expressways, will pass directly thru the Lincoln-Way high school district. On the west, it will pass thru Joliet, cross Interstate 55, the main highway link between Chicago and St. Louis, and connect with the completed portion of Interstate 80 to the Mississippi river and beyond. On the east, it will connect at Hazel Crest, with Interstate 30 (Tri-State and Kingery expressways), which is being completed thru the Calumet district of northwestern Indiana, linking with the main expressways around the southern end of Lake Michigan, and continuing as the most direct expressway route, toll free, between Chicago and New York. The Lincoln-Way high school district straddles this strategic link in the transcontinental express highway system.

(The significance of F.A.I. 80, the prospective growth of the area and its relation to industry will appear in this newspaper next week.)

FARM ADVISER

A businessman can often make money by spending money. And farming is a business. Most reliable guide in making these investments is accurate farm records. The University of Illinois offers a good farm record book that you may want to use. The book costs only 25 cents, may be obtained from my office at 6657 South St., Tinley Park, and would be a big help in analyzing your farm business as well as furnishing dependable records for your income tax and social security reports.

About 70 percent of Americans live in town - probably grew up there and maybe haven't set foot on a farm in years. But we've all got a big stake in agriculture, just the same. The farmer's well-being affects our jobs, our businesses, the price we pay for the things we buy. The farmer is also the custodian of precious soil and water resources that must be used wisely now and handed down in good shape to future Americans--for outdoor recreation, forests, wildlife, and for "open space" around cities. His associates in the big business of agriculture -- processors, marketing men -- help move farm food and fiber to us economically, in a usable form. Agriculture is undergoing much change both within its own producing units and in relation to the total economy. There is more and more demand for basic information about agriculture as it relates to the rest of the economy. Such information includes population, gross incomes, expenditures of Illinois farmers, employment in agricultural industries of Illinois, and distribution of total production in the economy, with particular reference to agriculture.

Many meanings are tied to agriculture. It has always included farming. Then many production activities, such as providing power and fertilizer, once carried on within the farm-line fence, were taken over by the nonfarm sector. Marketing activities, such as meat processing and delivery, also were released by the farmer. Farming became more specialized. Many nonfarm industries became closely related economically, as either buyers or sellers, to the farmer. And so agriculture or agriculturally related industries now include: (1) Producing within the limits of the farm (2) Processing and distributing to the consumer the products originating on the farm

(3) Processing and distributing all goods and services purchased by the farmer for use in his business or in farm-family living.

The American farmer buys a lot of almost everything sold. That affects most of our incomes in some way. Farm families spend $42 billion a year -- $27 billion for the items it takes to produce livestock and crops, and $15 billion for the same kinds of things city people buy. Those are important statistics for any businessman. They're important statistics to jobholders, too. Put that farm buying power in terms of people, and you see that millions of "city" jobs depend on farming. Some six million people provide goods and services that farmers buy. Another ten million transport, process, store, and sell farm products. Actually, the farmer is a part of several different industries.

Our economy is constantly changing, and the role farmers play in that economy can also be expected to change. But, by and large, our present farm efficiency makes it possible for us to enjoy an endless supply and variety of foods at prices way below those reported from other countries. The average American family spends about 20 percent of the week's take-home pay for food. Englishmen must spend about 30 percent; Italians 43 percent; Poles 49 percent. In many developing countries it's even more.

Suburban Cancer Society Gets Official Authorization

The South Suburban Chapter of the American Cancer Society has received the official certificate of authorization for Illinois units that have met the standards which qualify them for conducting the year-round program of the society.

The South Suburban Chapter is composed of 52 towns and extends from Evergreen Park to Chicago Heights and from Orland Park to Dolton. The 71 member board includes professional and lay members from each of the towns.

Members from the local area include: Mrs. Harry Pihl, Orland Park; Mrs. Ores H. Cushman, Dr. Joseph Gonzales, and Emanuel Cannonito, all of Tinley Park.

Under the provisions of the certificate of authorization, preparations are now underway for the annual April Crusade, the society's sole general appeal to the public for funds for education, research and service.

Persons wishing to volunteer their services are urged to call the South Suburban chapter office, SK, 4-9320.

so the top is at least five or six inches below the soil surface. The more shallow narcissus are planted, the faster they multiply.

If double flowered narcissus are blooming poorly, botrytis may be causing the trouble. This disease forms a sticky substance on the buds causing the flower parts to stick together. To control botrytis, spray with zineb during spring.

PEONIES: Peonies, too, need little if any fertilizer. Some peonies in University of Illinois plots, planted 25 years ago, have never received fertilizer, and they are still healthy and vigorous plants.

Remove peony tops in the fall after they have been killed by frost. ALL tops and other refuse from peony beds must be burned as they carry disease spores.

If ants move into peonies, don't be alarmed. They are looking for sweet nectar and will not harm the plant itself. Ants are easily controlled by applying chlordane dust to the soil around the base of the plant. Do not apply chlordane dust to the peony plant.

Hints For Homeowners

BY: JAMES FIZZELL,
ASS'T FARM ADVISER

Some of the home garden's prettiest and easiest to care for flowers are bulbs. Several examples are tulips, glads, peonies, and daffodils. If you check, you'll find many have already poked their noses above ground and will soon be bursting with color. Here are a few pointers on their care:

FERTILIZER: Most bulb plants need little if any fertilizer. Usually they obtain all their necessary nutrients from the soil without any being added.

PLANT TOPS: Do not remove tops of bulb plants until they die naturally. The leaves manufacture food material which is stored in the bulbs. This makes strong healthy bulbs which will continue to bloom year after year. When tops are removed after blooming, an adequate amount of food material is not produced to keep the bulb strong. Bulb plants treated this way will eventually cease to bloom.

IRIS BORER: Control this insect pest with a spray or dust of 5 percent DDT. Make the first application between the time when plants first begin growing and when they reach a height of four inches. Then make two more applications ten days apart.

IRIS ROT: This disease cannot be controlled now. Instead, wait until August and dig up plants. Then cut out all rot and treat cut surfaces with a sulphur dust. Conditions which favor rot include: borer damage, poor drainage, crowded plants, garden debris around and over plants, and plants in shaded areas. These conditions prevent crowns from drying out.

Prevention should include: controlling borers, planting in area with good drainage, spacing plants and thinning periodically, cleaning up debris and planting iris in full sunlight.

POOR - BLOOMING NARCISSUS: Why don't narcissus continue to bloom regularly? Probably because they are too thick. Narcissus divide rapidly, causing crowding in a short time. In order to leave longer time between dividing and thinning, space original plants at least six inches apart. Plant the bulb SHADOWS, LIGHTS and maybe curiosity. The young miss having a conference with a teacher appears to be all business but it is quite possible that the youngsters in the shadows of the foreground find that the construction work going in the new addition to Willow Crest school is quite fascinating and are more interested in what that workman at the end of the hall is going to do next than in books. It is a good thing that the construction site is out of bounds for the youngsters. Can you imagine the plight of workmen if the youngsters had an opportunity to ask them questions?

Viking Surge In Second Half Snows LW, 87-64

BY GREGG FANT

The Homewood Flossmoor Vikings, playing an inspired team of Lincoln-Way Knights, assured themselves of a share of the Southwest Suburban basketball championship by defeating the Knights, 87-64. The victory gave the Vikings a 12-1 conference record as they maintained their one game lead over the Rich East Rockets who possess a 11-2 conference record.

The Vikings were paced by the conference's leading scorer in the person of Jim Frye who scored a total of 38 points on 16 baskets and six free throws, nine of his baskets coming in the fourth quarter. Up until the fourth stanza, the Knights had stayed fairly close to the Vikings, trailing by only nine points at the end of three periods. The Knights were paced by Howard Grimes, the third leading scorer in the league behind Frye and Bruce Ruzgals of Oak Lawn. Grimes scored 22 points on nine baskets and four free throws. Russ Batson contributed 16 points to the Knights attack by scoring five baskets and six free throws.

This same type of game was seen earlier this season when the Knights traveled to Homewood and lost by a score of 87-58. In this game also, the Knights trailed by only five points at the half, but saw the Vikings pull away in the final stanzas.

The shooting percentages show the difference in the ball game. The Vikings shot 61% from the field and 60% from the free throw line while the Knights shot only 42% from the field and 48% from the charity line. The Vikings' Jim Frye made 16 of 21 baskets for 76% from the field and his 16 baskets were 44% of the 36 baskets scored by the Vikings.

This week, the Knights travel to Rich East to play their last conference game of the season against the Rockets. The Rockets must win in order to maintain any hope at all of capturing a part of the conference crown. The Vikings will face Bremen at Bremen in their final game of the season. If the Vikings should lose and the Rockets win, the Rockets would then gain a share of the conference crown.

Escorted by her father to an altar banked in arrangements of white gladioli, carnations and palms, the bride wore a floor length velvet gown with chapel train and alencon trim. Her jewelry was a hand carved ivory rose on a chain necklace, a gift of the groom.

Apartment Question A Big One In Area Communities

Multiple housing has become a problem for all suburban towns and what to do about it has them all at work on the subject.

At a special meeting of the Frankfort village board last Thursday night Gene Boughman, head of the planning division of Tec-Search, Inc. that drew up the original master plan for Frankfort and Mokena, appeared to give his advice.

In his opinion the proposed erection of some apartment houses, of brick construction, just north of U.S. 30 toward the west end of Connecticut Hills, would not depreciate the value of the single family homes there. All of the owners of single family homes have appeared before the village board to protest rezoning of the lots in question to permit multiple housing. The property owners contend they were assured by A.T. McIntosh Co., owners of the land, that the zoning would not change.

The original zoning calls for a shopping area at the west end of the subdivision north of U.S. 30. Boughman said that apartments should be built in the vicinity of shopping areas and close to schools.

Trustees Daniel Hecht said he understood that the Frankfort grade school board is considering calling a bond election within the next six months for the purpose of building a school in the Connecticut Hills area.

Boughman is to help the village draw an up to date zoning ordinance and it is possible that his firm will be retained to revise the master plan and bring it and other codes necessary to its enforcement up to date.

No action has been taken on the petition authorizing the apartments.

Before becoming committed to this program, however, the board will consult with the Mokena board and ask that community to join in on the project. It was possible, the Frankfort board heard, that New Lenox might be interested in joining in a master plan for the entire area served by the three villages. New Lenox was invited to join in the original project but no one there was too interested at the time, it was reported.

Apartments are also scheduled for Arbury Hills. The developers there are planning a series of three-unit, two-bedroom flat buildings. Originally they asked the county zoning board to reclassify 52 lots for this purpose but at the hearing in Mokena last week Attorney A.H. Krusemark, appearing for the developers, amended the petition, reducing the number of lots to 30. Supervisor George Tate said he believed the county board would be more disposed to approving such reclassification if fewer lots were involved, especially in view of the fact that the apartments would not all be built at once.

No objectors appeared at the hearing. The appeals board took the case under advisement but it was believed it would recommend approval to the county board.

4 Sandburg Swimmers To Compete In State Meet

BY JOHN HELQUIST

Four Sandburg swimmers are now preparing for the state swimming meet to be held at Evanston Friday and Saturday (Feb. 28 and 29) because of their efforts in the district meet at Hinsdale last Friday and Saturday. In that meet Sandburg placed fourth in the 17 - team field.

Altho none of the four swimmers finished in the top two which would automatically enable them to swim in the state meet - 11 were under the state qualifying times in their events. Ron Stebner was highest among the Sandburg qualifiers with a third place in the 200-yard individual medley with a time of 2:17.7. Stebner also finished sixth in the 100 yard free-style with a time of 53.3.

In the 100 yard backstroke Bill and Mike McNaughton placed fifth and sixth. Mike McNaughton's time was 59.8 (which was under the state qualifying time) and Bill McNaughton's time was 1:00.0 even though Mike's time was supposedly faster the judging machine picked Bill fifth and Mike sixth. Because of the mix-up in the timing and judging, the timers and judges decided Bill and Mike's time were both good enough to qualify for the state meet.

The other member of the foursome going to state is Jeff

Ferguson. In the district meet Ferguson was awarded 5th place in the 1-meter springboard diving. Jeff is eligible to compete in the state meet because all six qualifiers in district competition go the meet.

Others who qualified for the district finals but did not qualify for state were Terry Brazel, John Helquist, Bob Negro, Bob Hutchinson, and Harry Lemberg.

Brazel qualified fourth in both the 200 and 400 yard free-style with times of 1:59.2 and 4:25.1. Hutchinson finished fourth in the 100 yard free-style with a time of 52.5 which is 2 tenths off state qualifying time. John Helquist placed sixth in the 100 yard butterfly with a time of 1:02.0 and Bob Negro qualified sixth in the 100 yard breaststroke with a time of 1:12.2. Rounding out the qualifiers was the medley relay team of Bill McNaughton, Bob Negro, John Helquist, and Harry Lemberg which qualified fourth with a time of 1:50.8.

As the swimming season draws to a close the Sandburg swimming team under the guidance of head coach Bob Grindley and his assistants John Weber and Richard Finley have given a fine account of themselves. First the team won the Southwest Suburban Conference and then placed fourth in the largest district in the state.

300 To Attend Fund Dinner For Bertani

Louis R. Bertani, Republican candidate for nomination to state's attorney, will address a group of some 300 supporters and campaign workers at a fund raising dinner in his honor at D'Amico's 214 Tuesday, March 3.

General campaign chairman for the Bertani campaign, Albert H. Krusemark, will be the master of ceremonies. Also in attendance will be Gene Korst, Lockport chairman of the Bertani committee.

Other Bertani committee leaders who will be at the dinner include William Tongren, working in the Peotone-Monee area; and Mrs. Marjorie Schellase, Mokena.

Bertani, who has practiced law in Joliet for 12 years, is basing his candidacy on his qualifications as a successful trial attorney and administrator.

Because of the far reaching judicial amendment, Bertani labels the office of state's attorney as even more vital to the public interest.

He is pledged to have a representative of his office aware of each and every court action presented in Will county. With former justice of the peace courts eliminated Bertani points out, "every court is now a court of record. It is vital that a qualified representative of the state's attorney office represent the interests of both the state and the rights of the people in these actions."

Ann Rutledge Board Asks 21¢ Raise In Tax Rate

Faced with insufficient revenues to meet its needs the Ann Rutledge school board has called a referendum on the question of raising the educational tax rate from 90 cents to $1.11, an increase of 21 cents per $100 of equalized assessed valuation.

It was decided to hold the referendum on the same day as the regular school election, April 11, and thus avoid the additional expense that holding a special election would entail.

The board explained that the present enrollment requires an additional teacher but existing tax revenues are insufficient to meet this need. The board is now faced with operating under costly conditions of deficit financing.

If the proposed additional rate is approved, it was explained, the additional revenue will not be forthcoming until 1965.

The present 90-cent rate has been in force since 1956.

Members of the board stated that if the 21 cent rate increase is approved it will not all be used at this time.

"Continued careful management of the district's funds will allow for a gradual rather than immediate use of the full amount of the proposed increase," a board spokesman declared.

Offers Prizes For Best Designed Christmas Seal

The Will County Tuberculosis Association is putting out a "Call for Artists."

This announcement was made today by Mrs. Earl Keniston, association president, who asks that any artist interested in designing a Christmas Seal, that could be entered into state and national judging for the 1966 Christmas Seal, should contact our association for complete information.

"We have just received word", Mrs. Keniston continued, "regarding the Christmas Seal Project of the Illinois Tuberculosis Association and the National TB Association listing the awards that will be presented to the winning designer."

In the state contest, two awards will be given - a $100 U. S. Savings Bond for the first place design in both the professional artist category and the amateur category. These winners will be announced in April, at the annual meeting of the state association. All entries to the state project will be entered into the national contest. This winner of this contest, which will be announced in October, is presented with an award of $1,000.

"It would be wonderful if the designer of the 1966 Christmas Seal is from Illinois, and especially our county," Mrs. Keniston said. "I hope that we will be able to enter several designs from this county into state and national competition."

ARMLESS WILLIAM I. RICHARD, an accountant chosen Chicago "Goodwill Industries Worker of 1964," makes an entry in a journal at his desk in Goodwill headquarters at 1500 West Monroe Street, Bill, who lives at 2850 West 25th Street, is a University of Illinois graduate, an accomplished musician and a sports enthusiast.

GREGG HARRISON, the Man with the Golden Saxophone, will bring the sound of the big band to Orland Park Sunday night, March 1. The Orland Park PTA is sponsoring a dance that night in the school and with Harrison and his 14-piece orchestra will provide the music. This is nice music, according to Harrison fans, good to listen to and good to dance to. The outfit is sometimes billed "orchestra with the society beat", and develops fans wherever it appears. Whether you dance or just sit and listen the tickets are $1 for adults, 50 cents for grade school children. Tickets may be obtained from PTA board members or by calling Mrs. Lorie Bengtson at FI 9-3440.

Jr. Woman's Club To Aid Fund Drive For TV-WTTW

The Orland Park Junior Woman's Club will again conduct the annual community fund drive for WTTW-Channel 11, to be held during Educational Television Week, March 7 - 15.

Mrs. Douglas Proctor, chairman, states that, in keeping with the Juniors policy, there will be no door to door collecting. Instead, the drive will be confined to Saturday, March 14, in the Orland Park Plaza.

Channel 11's budget for 1964-65 is $1,150,000. The community fund drive, however, is seeking only $250,000.

The Chicago Educational Television Association also expects to activate WXXW, Channel 20, by September 1964 which will make a second channel available for educational television in Chicago.

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND
Business statistics are now confirming some of the rather ambitious predictions of the past few months. Standard & Poor business forecast for 1964, notes that 1964 could become a real boom year with activity approaching the gains of 1955 and 1959.

Fortune has been predicting for months that industrial capacity will soon be strained by the consumption build up.

The tax reduction that is expected to become law shortly, will probably push business activity still higher. Standard & Poor's survey notes that a capital spending boom could develop and if the tax savings in the new law, were to find their way into a spending stream, we might well find our business activity too high for usual controls.

More and more analysts have been predicting the capital spending increase and noting that there has been comparatively small spending in field of production machinery since 1957. The retained corporate earnings and accelerated depreciation, are expected to amount to sizeable sums for expenditures on plant and equipment.

Leading production machinery firms that have seen recent lean years, are expected to experience full order books again.

Standard & Poor survey states, "The rise is likely to be at least double the 4 per cent gain suggested by the recent McGraw Hill survey of corporate spending intentions. The past record of such surveys taken in the fall indicates that they prove to be conservative by an average of about 3 per cent, for many plans have not jelled. It is believed that actual tax reduction will cause directors to be more liberal in appropriating funds for expansion and for projects to raise efficiency."

The tax reduction is expected to amount to about $6 billion in added personal buying power about 1.5 per cent increase. A goodly portion of this increase will certainly be felt in consumer demand, but in middle and upper income brackets, the increase in personal spending is unlikely to increase greatly.

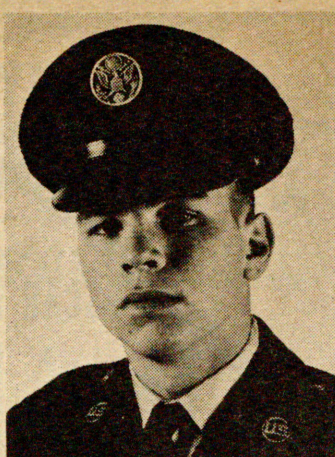

Some analysts are suggesting some caution in spite of expectations that 1964 could be a boom year. There will no doubt be efforts to head off excesses in credit thru Federal Reserve efforts. However, being an election year, the Fed must be careful not to disturb the good business picture.

Serious students are hopeful that the business enthusiasm will not bring on a flood of wage demands.

Some of the labor leaders are now suggesting control of overtime and price controls, etc. This is described as largely "sand in the eyes of the juror". Most labor leaders have competent economic advice and they are well aware of the fact that most overtime is caused by sudden demands and not possible of exact scheduling. Most firms avoid overtime for a number of reasons other than added costs. Overtime is usually emergency work and does not fit into the cost control pattern.

Price control suggestions usually arise when the business picture is active and wage increases are matched by increased price level.

Labor leaders must make these suggestions even though they often know the law of supply and demand will not stop general wage increases from being transmitted to the commodities or services involved and the effects on other services and commodities directly and indirectly touched.

AIRMAN THIRD CLASS

James F. Davidson of Orland Park, Ill., is being reassigned to Formosa following his graduation from the technical training course for United States Air Force fire protection specialists here.

Airman Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson of 9873 W. 145th St., Orland Park, was trained to prevent and fight structural, aircraft, and material fires and to perform preventive maintenance on fire fighting equipment and vehicles.

The airman attended Carl Sandburg high school.

Eagle Junior Varsity Five Beats Bremen

BY TIM SEDGWICK

The Carl Sandburg junior varsity basketball team brought its record to 5 and 5 as it won over Bremen 58 to 56 in overtime. The win also gave the J-V's a 4 win 3 loss conference record.

The Eagles took an early lead against the Bremen Braves of 6 to 0. The Braves quickly came back to tie the score eight all. From that point on neither team could hold more than a four point lead. The half ended with the Braves ahead by two.

The Eagles began to press at the start of the second half but the Braves maintained a slim two point lead. As the fourth quarter got under way Bremen lost the ball a number of times through violations and fumbles. Sandburg took advantage of the opportunity to take the lead only to lose it again in the final minutes of play. With both teams tied with less than three minutes to go Bremen made a free throw to take the lead. Both teams began to press. The Eagles finally

Ill. Lawn Wins Award

At the recent National Golf Course Turf conference at Philadelphia, Illinois Lawn Equipment, 14750 LaGrange Road, Orland Park, was awarded the Jacobsen Mower Co. "Turf Equipment Distributor of the Year" for outstanding sales and service to golf courses and other large area users in their territory.

Bob Johnson, general manager, attended the conference and accepted the award on behalf of the company.

Illinois Lawn has grown to one of the largest turf equipment suppliers in the country in their eight years of business in Orland Park. They are the Northern Illinois distributor for Jacobsen, handling their tractors and large area gang mowers, as well as the full line of other mowers and supplies.
